

TEST TILE MAKING - EXTERNAL FIRING

In order to prevent any further costs, induced by damaging studio's shelves, Studio Roka recommends testing any new glaze you have not yet used before. The same rule applies, if a known glaze has been used with a new clay body.

We recommend the test as following.

1. SHAPE: Test tiles should be shaped like on the photo, providing enough "catch space" in case a glaze runs down. They can be made by hand or on the wheel.
2. *TESTS
  - a. with the recommended amount of coats - depending on glaze packaging or the amount of coats you were planning on using
  - b. with 2 coats
  - c. with 3 coats

If you decide to skip this process and try it out without previous testing, we will charge you the price of a new shelf, if one gets destroyed due to running glaze. Shelf prices range from CHF 40-CHF 50.

Tutorials on how to make test tiles:

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=HQiEbNw8NkU>